

Game Commission Will Investigate Buffalo at Goodnight Sunday and Consider Locations to Keep Them

Local Men and Amarillo Group Will Join State Commission to Look Over Herd; Canyon Chamber of Commerce Urges Purchase of Palo Duro Canyon

Following, and as a result of the appeals of various Chambers of Commerce over the Panhandle and numerous individuals, to save the Goodnight herd of buffalo, came an announcement from the State Game Commission that its members would make a trip to Goodnight for the purpose of investigating the herd and of considering a place to keep them.

The Commission has the authority and the money to buy part or all of the herd if it so wishes, although it may be necessary to condemn the herd before any of the buffalo can be bought, because they are now owned by the Staley estate.

Fred Wortham, secretary of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, and Travis Shaw, and a group of men from Amarillo, will go to Goodnight, Sunday, August 9, to join the Game Commission in looking over the herd.

D. E. Culp, chairman of the Texas Major Parks Association, in a letter to prominent men over the state interested in state parks said that a bill had already been introduced into the Senate which would give the Game Commission authority to buy 9,000 acres of land as a game preserve to keep the buffalo on. In the past it has not been the policy, however, of the Game Commission to buy land with its money; their funds have hitherto gone to buy animals only.

It would be to the advantage of the Panhandle to have the Commission (Continued on last page)

22 W. T. Students Go to College for Pleasure, Culture

There are twenty-two students in the West Texas State Teachers College this summer who are not working for the usual certificates, hours, or degrees. They are people who already hold the bachelor's degree and are studying for culture and pleasure.

Canyon claims five of these students. They are Mrs. Howard Golden, Miss Lillian Donnell, Miss Ruth Strain and Miss Alta Williams, all graduates of the local college, and Carl York, who comes from Denton.

Two, Miss Mattie Gray and Miss Nannie Andrews of Dallas are graduates of the University of Texas; Miss Elizabeth Tolk of Amarillo was graduated from Texas Tech; Eugene Wood of Earth, Texas, did his undergraduate work at Pasadena College, California; Lewis Ward of Kaufman, Texas, is a graduate of Trinity University. Simmons University is the alma mater of J. W. Tidwell of Silverton and Miss Alwina Bontke of Littlefield, while Panhandle A. & M. at Goodwell, Okla., was the former college home of Miss Adeline Bird of Stratford, Miss Betty Nelson of Goodwell, Okla., and Miss Mary Mag Smith of Guymon, Okla.

Miss Clarettie Lewis comes from the University of Kentucky with Mayfield, Ky., as her home address. Miss Ila Lasseter of Spur did her undergraduate work at Canyon, while John Pope, Jr., of Hart and Carroll M. Jones of Olton both graduated at Southern Methodist University. Miss Bernice Larsh of Pampa is from Oklahoma University, and Miss Mattie Lou Harrison of Hereford received her bachelor's degree in 1930 at the local college.

All of the students in this group feel that they are working with an unusual degree of freedom, and that there can be no such thing as a completed education.

LARGER PACKAGE NOW ALLOWED BY NEW RULE
A new postal ruling regulating the size and weight of parcel post packages went into effect August 1. A 70-pound package may be sent to any destination now where formerly a 50-pound package could only be sent to a destination within the first three zones, or 300 miles. The new size limit is 100 inches, girth and length combined, whereas it was formerly 84 inches. Postal authorities have indicated that they expect a material increase in the receipts of the post offices of the United States because many packages were turned down under the provisions of the previous ruling.

C. of C. Sponsors Welfare Program Monday, Aug. 10

A general community welfare program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be given next Monday night, August 10, it was announced Wednesday.

This program will be very unique in nature and different from any such program that has been presented in Canyon heretofore. It will be patterned after similar programs which have been given in other college towns over the state. "It is not to be sales talk of any nature, no one will be 'bawled' out, but it is a general get together program where a co-ordination of efforts may be worked out for the good of the community," is the way President J. A. Hill described it.

The program is not merely a Chamber of Commerce program, but one for the entire community. Everyone is urged to attend. All who have interests of any sort in the community will be made to feel welcome and will doubtless enjoy the program.

The meeting will be called to order at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening by Rev. W. C. Kunze, who will preside as chairman of the program. It will be held just east of the First Methodist Church using the same seating and platform arrangement that is now being used by the Flowers Evangelistic Party in the revival services. The Buffalo Band will appear and give several numbers.

Biggest Dance of Season Scheduled For This Thursday

With Jesse's Melody Maids furnishing the music, what promises to be the biggest dance of the summer, is scheduled for Thursday evening, August 6.

Plans are made to the minutest detail, with the prospects for giving attendees one of the most pleasurable entertainments of the summer, according to Jim Crowder, chairman of the dance committee.

The Melody Maids played for the first dance this summer, and proved very popular with the college dancers.

Lubbock Team Takes Scouts Swim Honors

Gayle Campbell, Glenn Gillespie, Hampton and Terry Lisle, Jack Pitts, and Landon Terry were the Canyon Scouts who represented Canyon troop in the Second Annual Invitation Swimming Meet held here last Monday. The meet was sponsored by the Canyon troop at the W. T. Pool.

Two of the Canyon boys placed in the contests. Hampton Lisle won third place in the third event, and Gayle Campbell won third place in event 18.

Troop 6 of Lubbock won the Meet with 68 points. Shook of the Lubbock team was high point man with 21 points. Lubbock was the winner last year and Shook was high point man.

The Lubbock troop was given a plaque and Shook was given a medal.

There were more than 200 entries in the several events.

Nine troops took part in the Meet: one from Canyon, one from Lubbock, and seven from Amarillo.

General Rainfall During Week-end Helps Panhandle

With .38 inch of rain Saturday, .35 inch Sunday, and .31 inch Monday, Canyon received a total of 1.04 inches of rain during the week-end when all over West Texas got a rain varying from a fraction of an inch to 3 inches or more.

Row crops, including feed and cotton, are reported as never better, now that the drought which threatened many parts of the Panhandle is broken. Many cattlemen who were seriously thinking of sending their cattle to grass are rejoicing that they will not have to do so now.

Bus traffic in the Panhandle was at a standstill for a time. Highway 385 between here and Happy was almost impassable and the one to Hereford was just about as bad.

The rain coming when it did came too late to interfere with the harvest in this section of the country. The farmers who had already ploughed up their stubble will have the advantage over those who had not since the rain has interfered with ploughing.

The temperature since the rain has been noticeably less and a great deal more comfortable.

WARWICK RETURNS TO SPECIAL SESSION

Clyde Warwick returned from Austin where he has been attending the called session of the Legislature to spend Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Canyon. He left for Austin again Sunday night.

Mr. Warwick reported that the temperature at Austin has been almost unbearable. He also stated that he thought it very possible that there would be a second called session to follow immediately the present one.

Scott Laycock was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday. He pointed out that four things entered into the growth and development of every person: physical, welfare, education, morals, and spiritual make up, and that from early childhood various influences determined just what each of these would be in later life.

Judge Henry Bishop of Amarillo made a few remarks at the close of Mr. Laycock's talk.

A. E. Terry of the classification committee made his report; he stated that there were 48 prospective members for the club and that the outlook for the coming year was a good one.

Visiting Rotarians were: George Stapleton, Neil Ainsworth, H. P. Allspaugh, Arthur Osgood, Gus Lettwich, Roy White, Walter Barry, and H. B. Fain, all of Amarillo, and Law Sone of Panhandle.

Training School at W. T. Will Open On September 23

The Training School of the West Texas State Teachers College will begin the regular fall term on Wednesday, September 23. This includes both the elementary and high school. There has been an important change in the amount of the fees and also in the method of paying the fees.

Fees for the kindergarten to seventh grades inclusive will be $4.50 per student per quarter. Heretofore patrons have been asked to pay the entire $13.50 at the beginning of school, but since the payment has been divided into three payments we feel that this arrangement will be much more convenient.

Fees for the eighth and ninth grades will be $6.00 per student per quarter. Fees for the tenth and eleventh grades will be $8.00 per student per quarter. This is a decided reduction in fees for high school students.

It has been estimated that about 300 will attend the Training School this winter.

Fire Destroys Glover House Early Sunday

The home of J. P. Glover was a total loss Sunday as a result of a fire which destroyed it at about 3:15 o'clock Sunday morning. The fire began in the back part of the house and was soon out of control. Mr. and Mrs. Glover were out fishing at the time of the fire; their two boys were at home. The house was insured.

Mrs. Clyde Johnson is visiting friends in Hereford this week.

$18,000 Bonds Voted Monday To Enlarge Waterworks System of Canyon by Small Vote of 90 to 86

City Commission Will Employ Local Men to Work on Mains After Bonds Are Sold Late This Fall; Date to Sell Bonds Undecided, Says Harvey Cash.

J. A. Hill Speaks In Claude and Dimmitt Lately

President J. A. Hill has visited both Claude and Dimmitt within the past few days, speaking before community groups and answering inquiries of prospective students and their parents.

At Claude, Dr. Hill, who was accompanied by Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. George and Scott Laycock, addressed a meeting of old settlers, using as his subject "Citizenship." About two thousand people heard his lecture there.

Tuesday Dr. Hill and Mr. George visited Dimmitt, where the former addressed the Lions Club.

August 11, Dr. and Mrs. Hill will leave for a short vacation trip and for the quarterly meeting of the State Board of Teachers College Regents, which will be held at Alpine with President H. W. Morelock, formerly of Canyon, as the host. Dr. and Mrs. Hill expect to be away about ten days.

L. N. George Sees Large Attendance At College Soon

L. N. George, field man for the Ex-Student Association, says that every day some one asks him how many will be in attendance this fall. Hence he wishes to answer this in the light of the data that he has gotten thus far. Were we to estimate in terms of the numbers that have not a dollar and cannot go to school anywhere, we would be between two and five hundred below normal.

But to counteract this there is a large number who had planned to go to a tuitional school and find that they cannot make the grade financially. He says that here is the place for Canyon people to be real missionaries and that a large number are being that right now. Letters are being written to college prospects all over our territory by teachers, preachers, businessmen and students, and that members of the above mentioned groups are going with him on field trips.

He says that with the ex-students working, the neighboring papers co-operating, and children going to high school and on to college like they are, that should W. T. get her percentage of the college prospects she will double her attendance in the very near future. He reports the loss of about one family per week because we do not have proper housing facilities. Something nice and modern is demanded and if they can not get it here they go where they can. Five families are trying to find as good a home as they are leaving right now.

Canyon is their choice for a school town but to get them we must have something equal to what they are leaving.

College Band to Present Concert At 7:30 Tonight

The College Band will present a concert to the citizens of Canyon, Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, at the band stand on the Court House lawn, according to C. E. Strain, director.

The Home Town Band Weidt
March Second Regiment Winkler
The Perfect Song Breil
Bohemian Dance Engleman

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert, Mr. Strain said.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

C. R. DeArmond to erect frame house, shingle roof, to be house number 410 on Twenty-fourth St. Cost $600.

Milton Kiker to erect frame addition to house with shingle roof at corner of Eighth Avenue and Ninth Street. Cost $200.

Lumber and Building Materials, Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co.

The measure before the taxpayers of Canyon Monday to authorize the issuance of $18,000 bonds to extend the water mains of Canyon passed with 90 votes for and 86 against it.

The City Commission met Monday night after the election and after some discussion decided to employ local men, heads of families preferred, to work on the installation of the mains.

Just when the bonds will be offered for sale has not been decided by the City Commission, according to Harvey Cash, city secretary, but the time will probably be late in the fall.

Work will not start on the extension of the mains until the bonds are sold, Mr. Cash said.

G. H. Hardman, city waterworks engineer, will have charge of the work, according to R. A. Bellah, mayor.

The small number of votes cast may be attributed to the rain which fell off and on all day Monday and to the lack of interest shown in the question which was up before the public.

The bonds which the City Commission will issue will amount to $18,000, payable serially, $1,000 one year from their date and $1,000 each year thereafter up to and including 1949, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. A tax will be levied sufficient to pay the interest on these bonds and to create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity.

WILL AN OIL MEASURE PASS?

By Clyde W. Warwick

Representative 12th District

The prevailing question around Austin is "Will the Legislature be able to pass some kind of a regulatory measure affecting the oil industry?"

After two weeks of investigation last House brought the testimony to a close. A great mass of information and statistics of every possible kind was presented during this period. Most of the testimony and very little dealing upon any oil which might be introduced or acted upon.

The heads of all of the big oil companies were heard. The records of the various oil fields were discussed at length. Every possible advantage was made of show that the major companies were imposing upon the independent, and nothing definite was proven except the general suspicion presented by leading independent of the State.

That the independent are in a terrible condition no one can deny. They are broke and will continue to be broke unless something radically happens quickly. Groping through this great mass of testimony, it is hoped that the law making body will be able to reach some definite conclusion and pass some kind of a bill which will be of benefit to the oil industry.

The gap existing for months in the Railroad Commission was bridged by the battle fought on the floor of the Legislature between the three members of the Railroad Commission. Chairman Terrell and Commissioner Smith were the first to testify and showed that they knew very little or nothing about the oil business.

Then came Commissioner Neff, a former governor who openly charged ignorance and laziness on the part of the Commission. This attack was followed by a printed statement by Commissioner Smith lambasting Neff. Chairman Terrell was recalled to the witness stand and made further charges against Neff.

It is hard to get away from the fact that Mr. Neff was chairman of the commission for 18 months and the body did little to correct the oil situation, which was then getting in bad shape. He is an able citizen of Texas. He has been honored by his State in the election to two important offices. He owes it to the State of Texas not to sink in camp while the oil business is on the rocks. If he knows the fallings of the commission he should have made a fight for the benefit of the treasury of the State long ago.

It is very clearly shown that the farmers of the State are not particularly interested in the present situation at Austin. They have troubles of their own with the wheat and the prospects of 60 to 80 cents. They are enjoying cheap gasoline; however, they do have an interest which has probably not been called to their attention. The state treasury has been depleted on account of the cheap price of oil. Someone is going to have to pay the difference. If the oil valuations are forced up, it will fall largely upon the property owners; therefore, every citizen of Texas should be vitally interested in the present situation of low priced oil.

The charges against Governor Sterling and the four hundred thousand dollar loan from the Humble Oil Company tell that. It was predicted that the Governor would find himself in an embarrassing situation. The loan was made in January, 1930, and was clearly a legitimate proposition. The fact that this company had made loans amounting to more than nine million dollars show the very small significance of the advance made to E. S. Sterling, six months before he became a candidate for Governor.

The governor made a very pertinent observation when he said, "pay me attention to rumors and you will do better." He replied that the present situation was up to the Legislature rather than to the Governor.

Jim Ferguson in his typical manner had role to say about the loan of the oil company as compared with the $125,000 loan he received from the brewery company. However, he has definitely announced that he and his followers will solidly sponsor any bill by the Governor. He wants to see some oil legislation pass even to the extent of creating a new commission, although the Governor should announce he would appoint Dan Moody, Tom Love and Jesse Jones as the new commissioners. Jim Ferguson is a keen politician and so one knows exactly what he is up to.

Governor Murray of Oklahoma has caused a lot of amusement in official circles; first over the bridge controversy between Texas and Oklahoma, and second over his edict to raise the price of oil to $1.00 per barrel. Atlanta Bill is "good copy" in the parlance of the newspaper fraternity.

Senator T. T. Gore visited Texas last week and made one of his typical talks. He stated that what the farmers needed right now was a good rabbit dog; this is in derision of the various agencies which are at work to help the farmers.

Representative A. E. Threlwater of Plainview has uncovered the fact that the State is buying for all the elementary institutions oleomargarine instead of butter and is paying a higher price than the butter market. This does not sound good to the dairy farmers of the state and an effort is being made to correct this evil.

NATION-WIDE GOOD CROPS.

Having passed through the central and northern sales of the Union last week and noted the splendid crops in Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Arkansas and Texas, this editor is ready to believe the reports that the nation is on the verge of harvesting one of its most beautiful crops in its history.

Prices are low, and are likely to remain so for many months, but the fact is that people are raising lots of food and food; they raised it at an unbelievably low cost; they have all returned to economy; therefore conditions are already on the up-grade.

Good crops and common sense will restore confidence and normal conditions to the nation.—Clarendon News.

SCHOOL ROOM MOVIES

By Bruce Catton

Ever since Shakespeare made the famous remark about the unwilling school boy reluctantly trudging off to his lessons, it has been taken for granted that children, in the very nature of things are bound to dislike going to school.

Improvement in methods of teaching within the last few decades have probably lessened this old antagonism of childhood toward its education. But the children have not yet been entirely converted. Most of them, even now, would rejoice to see the school house burn down just as their fathers before them would have rejoiced.

Once in a while, though, one gets a glimpse of future possibilities—a glimpse that brings conviction that schools eventually will be different. A long start has been made already. A great deal more undoubtedly will be accomplished during the next generation.

All of this meditation is prompted by a little catalog recently issued by the Eastman Company—a catalog showing a long list of educational films devised for use in schools. The thing opens amusing vistas to the mind of one who got his "three R's" in the good old way.

Consider the possibilities of the school room movie. What could not be done with it? Could any book or blackboard-talk hope to compete with a well devised film? Look back at your own school days. You studied, among other things geography—for long months, poring over uninteresting books and emerging with only the faintest idea, after all, of the world you live in.

Can you imagine getting geography through movies? Wouldn't a couple of dozen selected films inform a child about this world in a way that books could never equal? Furthermore, the child would remember what he learned—and he would look forward to the next lesson.

Not all lessons could be taught that way, of course. Such buyers of childhood as arithmetic, spelling and grammar can never be sugar-coated very much. But plenty of things could be taught through the films. A child could be informed about his world and the people who live in it, and the job could be done quickly and thoroughly.

The very smallness of the film catalog mentioned above is impressive—because it shows that the surface has hardly been scratched. The movies can be one of the greatest allies the school teacher ever had. When it finally gets used to its fullest possibilities, it is a safe bet that the school children won't be half as eager to have vacation time come around.

THE MILITARY CAMPS

Activities at the summer military training camps in various parts of the country serve to emphasize the clever way in which army leaders have been able to combine business with pleasure, so to speak, in the matter of preparedness.

Being in the army is not always looked upon as fun. Infantry drill under a hot summer sun is no cinch; and the other concomitants of a buck private's life range all the way from arduous early-morning setting-up exercises to the hated "K. P." detail.

But thousands of young Americans are spending their vacations at military camps this summer, and they are having a perfectly swell time.

Somewhat the War Department has been able to fix things so that a fortnight of military training takes on all the aspects of a good time. It was a highly ingenious move. The nation gets something in the way of preparedness, thousands of young men get some wholesome training and recreation, and everybody is happy.—Plainview News.

"The Greatest Show on Earth"

Getting up a circus is part of the program of the playgrounds in Los Angeles. Gayly colored wagons, tents, papiermache animals, and other glittering trappings, furnished by the playground commission, are taken from one playground to another, in order to give the kids a chance to try their skill at clowning, acrobatic stunts, or whatever they please. A view of the miniature fire engine, manned by a crew of smoke eaters, is seen above.

Popular Ex-Students, Zella Mae Walser and Cleatice Crump, Married July 27

Climaxing the long courtship of two of the most popular students of W. T. comes the news that Zella Mae Walser and Cleatice Crump were married in Hereford, Monday, July 27.

The wedding took place in the home of the bride's parents with the Reverend Cloyd of the Hereford Baptist Church officiating. The bride, who wore a gown of cream taffeta with a three-quarter length veil and carried a beautiful bouquet of sunburst roses, was given away by her father S. L. Walser. The maid-of-honor was Leatrice Walser, a cousin of the bride, who wore a gown of orchid taffeta. The best-man was Delbert Loves of Canyon.

Just before the wedding Gwendolyn Spradley sang "Because," accompanied by Dalma Fry on the piano, and Lydia Havener on the violin. Miss Spradley played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bride made her appearance, and during the ceremony Lydia Havener and Dalma Fry played "At Dawning."

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception with a guest list of approximately fifty persons. Refreshments of sandwiches and punch were served followed by brick ice cream and wedding cake. Guests from Canyon were: Dalma Fry, Blanche McDonald, Clifford Keith, Delbert Loves, Gwendolyn Spradley, Ione Ball, Lydia Havener, and Iris Ribble.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for a honeymoon tour through Old Mexico. Miss Zella Mae Walser was one of the most popular girls of W. T. and was elected College Queen in 1930; she was also a member of the Elapheian Literary Society. Miss Walser did all of her college work here, receiving her degree in 1930. She has been teaching in Canadian for the past year but does not intend to resume her work this fall.

Cleatice Crump, athletic hero of W. T. for several years, also received his degree from W. T. in 1929. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crump of Ralls, Texas. During the past year he has been athletic coach in Edmund, Oklahoma. It is rumored that he will be back at W. T. this winter to assist Coach Burton in the direction of athletic activities.

Is Your Face Covered With Pimples?

Wichita Falls, Texas — "My son was in poor health when he was about twenty years of age. His blood became thin and he was pale. He was also troubled with his stomach and his face broke out with pimples. Finally, I decided to have him try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time he had taken a few bottles of the 'Discovery' he was completely relieved of all these troubles, his blood was healthy, and he had no more stomach trouble." — Mrs. Beulah Singleton, 1101 18th St. Tablets or liquid. ## Autumn Frocks Collar the Style

AND SLEEVES ARM THEMSELVES WITH UNUSUAL CUFFS TO COMPETE WITH THE TEMPERAMENTAL FLAIR OF THE NEW NECKLINES

BY HARRIET

NEW collars and cuffs appearing on summer things predict something different along these lines for autumn.

If you are buying outfits now, look to the way they are made above the waistline, if you want them good a few weeks from now.

For with September in the offing, whatever you buy now of any importance, should be looked at with chill in your eyes making sure it will do when autumn begins to turn the green leaves brown.

New collars are tremendously important. They tend to be rather smaller than usual, fitted, tying or flaring, keeping close to the neck to show the marvelous new things that are being done to shoulders.

For the newest garments affect the modified dolman sleeve, cutting the sleeve in one with the waist of garments, or making flattering yokes and fine hand-seaming for richness.

Sleeves themselves are running riot in individuality. Seemingly the more temperamental they are, the more stylish. Of course a sleeve too exaggerated in cut or decoration becomes tiresome so some restraint should be used in selecting sleeves.

But there is vast individuality in them, nevertheless. Fur is used much less seldom for wrist cuffs than formerly. If you have fur, then you either have it around the elbow some way, or up and down the sleeve, or making the whole lower half of the sleeve. Or you stop your fur trimmed sleeve up your arm a little way and wear long cuffs to your frock or long gloves. Either method is chic.

TWO very new mid-summer styles that will be just as good in September are shown.

The black afternoon coat is lovely in its new fashion aspects for it has a tie collar that can hang loose in streaming scarf fashion or knot under the chin, in youthful, flattering way. The long coat shows just what fall styles are going to do with dispensing with the little jacket worn everywhere by everybody now.

There is something intriguing in the way that the collar of the black afternoon coat, left, ties under the chin in a big black bow. The silver fox that bands the sleeves and coat edge adds a glamorous touch. The full-length navy blue coat, right, is just as effective with a dark dress as with this frock of white crepe.

This coat is three-quarters length, just as the sleeves are three-quarters length. In like manner both sleeves and coat edge are banded in silver fox. Wearing the three-quarters coat over a thin dress is new, too, and points which way the fashion winds blow.

The second outfit has a beautiful white frock of marocain crepe, made with a Vionnet collar, full skirt and puff sleeves that protrude beyond the three-quarters sleeves of the blue cloth coat that goes with it.

This coat is lightweight, unlined, full length and has a very new collar, a modernistic set-back cut to a standing collar that looks chic when fastened or when open, as it is here.

Review of Past Thirteen Years Of J. A. Hill's Administration As President Shows Great Gain

By MRS. T. V. REEVES

Three weeks from this date the West Texas State Teachers College will round out its thirteenth year under the leadership of Dr. J. A. Hill. The institution's growth during this period has been steady, and a review of the years shows that there have been many outstanding accomplishments, several of which have put the Canyon College far ahead of the great majority of teachers' colleges throughout the United States.

People of Canyon and the college community may have forgotten that this college had the first girls' dormitory that was erected at a teachers college in the state of Texas. This was Cousins Hall, completed in 1919. Randall Hall was purchased in 1923 and the two have constantly provided homes for approximately 200 girls since that time.

The interest in athletics which had been growing since the establishment of the college in 1910 crystallized in 1925 and the result was the gymnasium building, which was largely built by donations of money, labor, and materials by townspeople, students and faculty.

Athletic needs and interest continued to grow and the present steel stadium was built in 1928, its erection financed by a plan which was worked out by citizens of the city, working with President Hill and the members of the college athletic committee.

The field house, the track, the well turfed turtleback gridiron, the powerful lights for night football and field events, the college golf course, and a development of the college teams from the time when they competed on about equal terms with high school aggregations to last year's excellence which found the football and basketball teams more than holding their own with the best teams in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association, winning the championship in basketball in 1931 for the fifth time in nine years, has all taken place during the last few years.

In 1918 the campus contained 40 acres, and was considered ample for the needs of the college for many years to come. But the growth was so rapid and the demands for space so varied that in 1921 thirty acres were added, and in 1927 the vision of Dr. Hill and his colleagues, backed by the Teachers College Regents and the Texas legislature, saved the T. Anchor ranch headquarters for the historical interest it will have for posterity, and at the same time added to the college assets a farm which is the laboratory for the students of agriculture and which furnishes milk and other products for the dormitories and cafeteria.

Randall county farmers share in the pride that is felt in the Jersey herd which is maintained on the farm and which has a number of cows which have earned register of merit rating from the American Jersey Association. Incidentally this farm enables ten boys to earn their way through each year of college.

During the last thirteen years the water system of the campus has been enlarged from one small well to four large ones, and the flowers and trees on the campus have been multiplied in proportion.

Present Museum Dr. Hill's Idea.

Not all the changes that have taken place during the thirteen years past can be seen by the casual visitor on the college campus. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum for which the last Texas legislature appropriated $25,000 to be matched by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, had its genesis in the work begun by J. A. Hill when he was head of the department of history. The start that was made then was destroyed in 1914 by the fire which razed the administration building. Under Dr. Hill's encouragement and assistance given by members of the college faculty, especially Professor L. F. Sheffy and Miss Hattie M. Anderson of the department of history, this project was again undertaken in 1921. Now the organization possesses the largest collection of Southwestern relics and manuscripts that has been accumulated in any place in Texas.

T. D. Hobart, president of the Historical Society recently said, "The work of this organization would have been impossible had it not been for Dr. Hill and the members of his faculty who have given so freely of their time and money."

Greatest Gain in Standing in College World.

While the West Texas State Teachers College is justly proud of the extension of its physical facilities, the world and its ex-students are even more interested in its strides toward a place of honor in the collegiate world. In 1917 the school was rightly called a Normal college, but in 1918 the curriculum was broadened, the scholastic qualifications for a place on its faculty were strengthened, and the bachelor's degree offered.

Since that time the College has been granted full membership in the American Association of Teachers colleges, a nation-wide accrediting agency, the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States and the Texas Association of Colleges. It is also regional member of the American Association of University Women, which gives to its women graduates valuable privileges and opportunities wherever they may go.

W. T. was the second teachers college in America to be so recognized by this organization. Many departments have been added since the great changes instituted in 1918. Geography, sociology, government and library science have become well organized. The bureau of Public Service, including teacher-placement, correspondence work, club extension, class extension, and other services has been functioning since 1923.

With all these accomplishments in the year just past, and with the present fine beginning in the graduate field and with many plans for the greater growth of the College in prospect, the thirteenth year has not been an unlucky one in Dr. Hill's experience as president, and the entire faculty feels that obstacles which will be met in the immediate future will yield as have those in the past.

BE BRIEF

The world is in a hurry: please be brief.

Poor terminal facilities for authors and speakers often nullify all their excellent wisdom. A man may possess all kinds of useful knowledge, but fail in "discerning when to have done."

Brevity is the touchstone of success in any field. You may offend your customer, your reader or your hearer in one respect and please him in another. But if you tire him with your tediousness, you lose him altogether.

The newspaper leads the style today in pitch and cogency and has educated the public to the expectation of receiving much in little. The well-executed cartoon will impart a whole philosophy of life at a glance, or provide silent comment on current events, worth a column of words.

Brevity is the soul of wit. Yet they who have wit, or think they have, are in especial danger of saying too much. Some one has said: "It is better to say nothing and be thought a fool than to open your mouth and dispel all doubt."

Be brief!—Lubbock Avalanche.

Queer how a fellow's income never quite measures up to the other fellow's conception of its size.

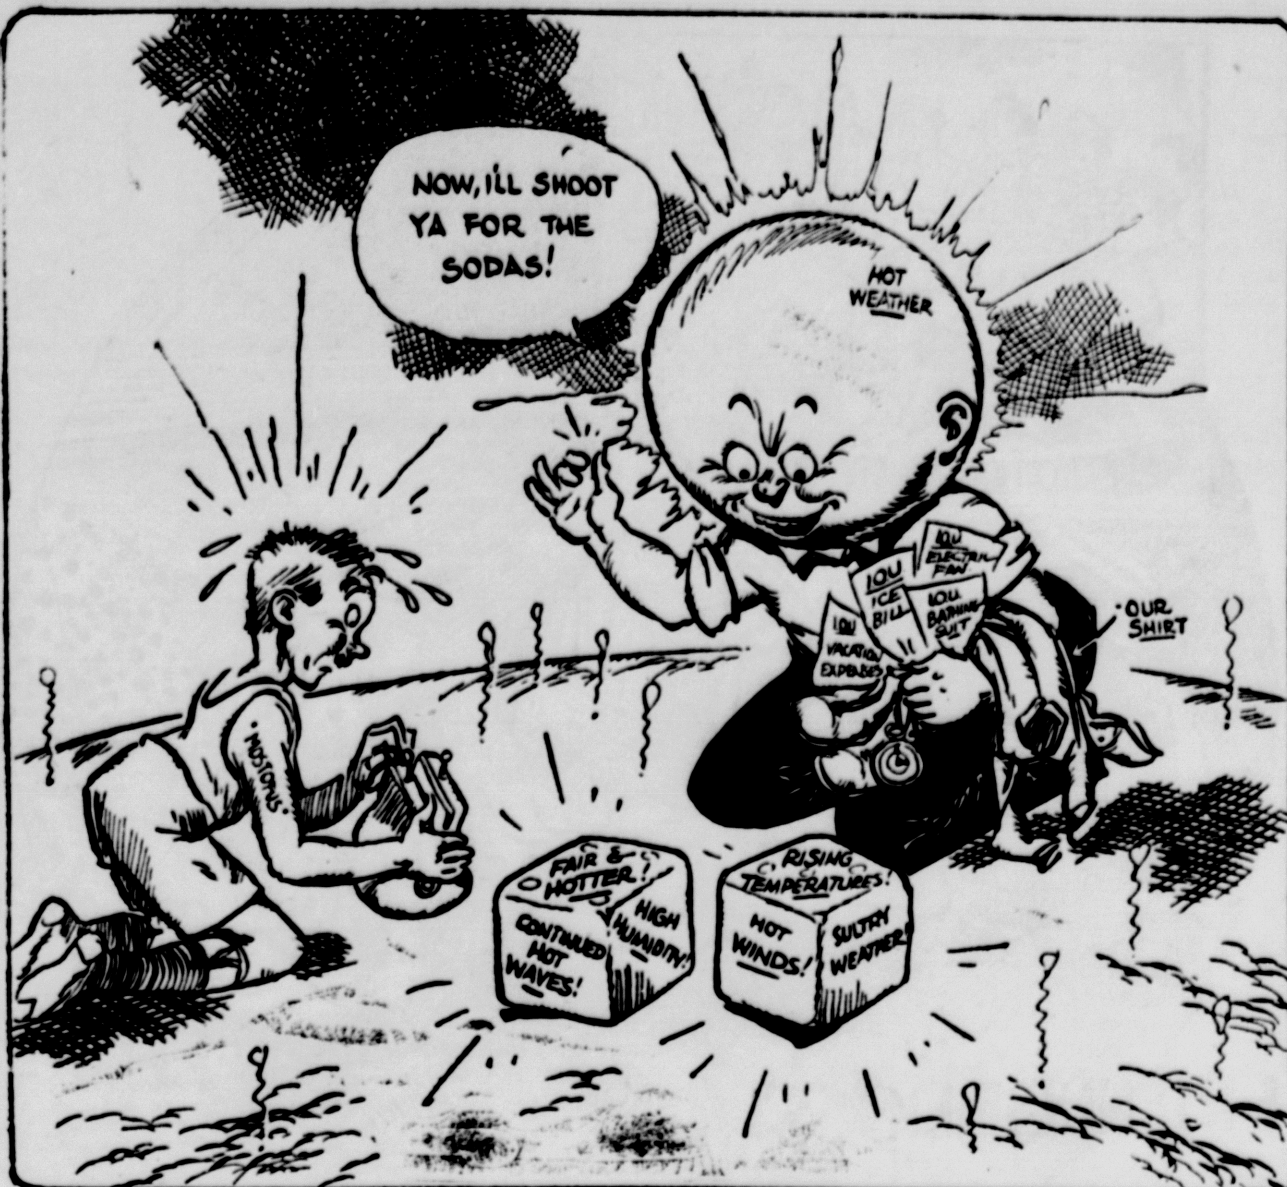

Tall people always manage to get the front seats and women with the largest hats never remove them.

Another fine thing about a porch swing is that you don't have to figure how many miles per gallon.

If most wives knew what other women think of their husbands they'd quit worrying about them.

Do your shopping in Canyon.

SHAVING VERSUS PAINT.

We wonder whether a girl dreads painting her face as much as a man dreads shaving his.—Wellington Leader.

The long skirt is supposed to add dignity. Therefore, the flapper age has departed with the short skirt, because no one ever had the nerve to say that the extremely short skirt was worn with dignity. The passing of the flapper has also brought about another change, if style writers and beauty doctors are reliable informants. There was a time when women and girls white-washed their faces, then doped on the red blushes, and then put on more whitening. The lips were a gaping wound, and looked hideous, instead of pretty. And the get up was so overdone that good taste was all smeared until it was not visible, if it was present. But now that skirts are longer, the style specialists insist that color be only a faint shade of pink and lips are to be free to the stick that painteth. Dignity does not mix well with an overabundance. A man, by the way, looks fresh and clean after a shave. He may hate to do the work and beeps some before he begins, but after the work has been thoroughly done, he whistles and adds a fresh collar and tie and goes about his business with a swagger. Or perhaps he drops in to have the barber do the job and gets a shave and a hair cut and then has his shoes shined and feels fit as a fiddle. A man would fight if the barber left the lather an inch or so thick on his face and left a heavy deposit of powder on his neck and in his eyebrows and plastered it thicker on his nose. Then to add to his manly beauty, rubbed red stuff on his cheeks, to soak up the lather. But for all that, the flapper was not as bad as she was painted.—Higgins News.

The 12th annual meeting of the Panhandle Baptist Assembly which has been in session at Ceta canyon, for the past week, came to a close Sunday night with a sermon by Rev. J. R. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist Church of Panhandle. Attendance at the session was better than expected.

An offering of $450 collected at the closing meeting will be used to apply on the expenses of the assembly and to pay some outstanding debts of the association.

Rev. Hicks was requested by the officials to undertake a campaign at once among the Baptist churches of the Panhandle to secure funds to clear the assembly standing.

CANYON RIFLE CLUB
RECEIVES CHARTER

The newly organized Canyon Rifle Club received its charter this week from the National Rifleman's Association.

The club which is composed of 12 Canyon men interested in shooting was organized about three weeks ago. The short time in which it took to receive membership in the national organization, is unusual, according to C. W. Batchelder. He said that it might have been because the membership of the club is above that of an amateur group.

The club will shortly issue challenges to other rifle associations for rifle matches. The club met last Sunday for a practice shoot.

A HAPPY SIGN

Construction of implement sheds in the North Panhandle country embracing three states strikes a happy note. It has often been said that one sign of a poor farming country is the farmers allowing costly equipment to stand out in the weather.

This country has never been a poor farming country. Since the first plow was stuck in the ground its unlimited opportunities agriculturally have been apparent to the man who cared to go to the trouble of looking and thinking, analyzing what he saw.

But in company with other pioneering countries there has been a period in which farm implements were not given as good care as they might have had.

With the agricultural feature of the North Panhandle now established beyond a doubt; with its reputation gaining national recognition, the Plains farmer has time to build sheds. Heretofore he has been too busy developing his land. Granaries are also being constructed on numerous farms. One lumber yard in Dalhart this week had a list of more than a dozen farmers who were building granaries and storage bins.

But even with the gigantic farming development that has been made here the statements that "Agriculturally Dallam and Hartley counties haven't started yet," ring truer each day.—Dalhart Texan.

Being wrong occasionally might be excused, but making a habit of it is unpardonable.

METHODIST REVIVAL
WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

The Methodist revival which is being conducted by Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers will close Sunday, August 9, according to Rev. C. E. Jameson. The last service will be held in the evening.

Because of the rain the meetings in the evenings were held in the church. But as soon as the rain stopped and the mud dried up, continued.

There have been about thirty converts, according to Mr. Jameson, of these about twenty-five have been additions to the Methodist church.

Three meetings at 4:30 in the afternoon of three days this week were especially for the college women.

As a rule a college education will not hamper you in getting a job provided you keep still about it.

PAJAMAS COME INTO THEIR OWN

My Gosh! Have you seen the latest? The female pajama, I mean. Loud colors and hat to match. One leg of em' would make a half dozen dresses of the 1929 model. Listen! We have some stiff breezes sometimes, and both pajamas and girl may be carried up, making it necessary to shoot a hole in her pants to get her down before she starves.

The hat has the appearance of a dilapidated calf shed of the old days. Only it is mostly striped like a barn—red and white. Great rig! Brace yourself—they're coming, and I don't mean maybe. Let 'em come. It's none of our business.

Not a bad idea, either—free and easy, nice and cool. The fat ones will look like a circus tent in motion, but how can we help it? In horse days we might expect some wrecked rigs. A horse naturally shied at strange objects that appeared to be going some place. Am wondering what the good woman is going to do about this new fad.—Donley Co. Leader.

END DEPRESSION
BY PAYING BILLS

Statistics show that most people are honest and pay their bills eventually. In good times and long-drawn-out payment is not harmful to business. Enough cash flows in to permit the average merchant to take care of his own accounts and wait for the "slow pay."

In subnormal times, however, the situation is different. Merchants are not bankers. They buy for cash and take the ordinary trade discounts when they can. They try to do business honestly, efficiently and with full value. But they cannot do so if buyers abuse the credit privilege.

The prompt payment of bills is one way out of a depression. It will save retail merchants millions of dollars in operating expenses and make possible the further cheapening of prices in line with price declines in the wholesale markets. It should be practiced by all who accept credit as a moral as well as a business matter. Pay your bills promptly, or pay as much as you can on them as often as you possibly can and you'll be surprised to see how quickly the clouds of depression will disappear from the business skies.—Grapevine Sun.

SUMMER IS SALAD TIME

MACEDOINE SALAD (BEETS, PEAS, ASPARAGUS, CAULIFLOWER, CUCUMBERS)

By Marye Dahnke—Kraft Cheese Institute

As red as a beet!
As round as a pea!
As cool as a cucumber!

What is it? It's a salad, composed of all three, and with several additions. As a summer serving for particular palates it is unequalled. Colorful, crisp, and cool, it holds the center of the stage at whatever table it graces, whether luncheon or dinner. Choice may be made of a whole gardenful of vegetables for this healthful treat, and thus it readily adapts itself to the time, the place, and the cook.

A fresh vegetable salad, combining the cool green of cucumbers, lettuce and asparagus, with the warm summer lushness of tomatoes or beets and with the whole united by a dressing of smooth yellow mayonnaise, is a treat to the eye and the palate.

MACEDOINE SALAD

Tiny beets      Lettuce
Asparagus tips      Sliced cucumber
Cauliflower      Green pepper
Peas      Kraft mayonnaise

Cook vegetables until just tender, not soft. For an individual service, place a few slices of beet, five or six asparagus tips, two small flowerets of cauliflower and a spoonful of peas in separate small nests of lettuce. Garnish the center of the service with thin slices of cucumber. Place two strips of green pepper and a spoonful of mayonnaise across the asparagus and serve the whole with additional mayonnaise. Almost any other vegetable may be used in this type of salad—green or wax beans, diced carrots, sections of small tomatoes, etc.

GARDEN SALAD

Lettuce      Asparagus tips
Sliced tomatoes      Kraft mayonnaise
Cut a slice, crosswise, from a head of lettuce. Place on it a slice of peeled tomato and on the tomato lay four or five stalks of asparagus. Serve with Kraft Mayonnaise.

GREEN BEAN SALAD

1 small white      Kraft French
onion      Dressing
2 cups cooked      Salt, pepper
green beans      Boiled Salad
Cut the onion into thin slices and separate the rings. Mix lightly with beans and sufficient Kraft French Dressing to moisten. Season to taste and serve cold on crisp lettuce.

POTATO SALAD

6 cooked potatoes,      1 can chopped diced      corn
2 hard-cooked      Salt, pepper
eggs, chopped      cayenne
1 green pepper,      Kraft Mayonnaise
chopped      Boiled Salad
1 small onion,      Dressing
chopped
Lightly mix all ingredients, using Kraft Mayonnaise or Boiled Salad Dressing generously. Garnish with strips of green pepper and pieces of hard-cooked eggs.

WHEN TAXATION IS CONFISCATION

There is a point where taxation becomes confiscation—when it goes beyond what the people can reasonably pay.

Many American communities are fast reaching this point. Tax rates have gone up a hundred per cent or more in a comparatively few years. A multitude of special taxes are being levied. Class taxation has become a commonplace. Both business and individuals find the tax collector a barrier in the way of industrial expansion and personal property.

A condition such as this cannot long continue without placing the nation in a position from which it may take years to recover. The present spectacle of debt ridden European nations should be a warning to public officials to do everything in their power to promote government efficiency, limit its operations to fundamental governmental duties, and keep expenses down.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED

Cutting Through the Water

E. J. McGreal, above, of the Bachelors Barge Club, as he looked when he regained the senior single sculls one-fourth mile championship, at the 59th annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, on the Schuylkill river, Philadelphia. In the opening race he defeated W. E. Garrett Gilmore, captain of the Bachelors Oarsmen.

OLD ROADS TRADED IN ON NEW ONES

More roads for less money is the present-day demand. Both for the sake of employment, and in order to give small towns and rural areas the year-round highways that are vital to their existence, the secondary road movement has been making tremendous headway of late. Nineteen-thirty-one is to be one of the greatest road building years in our history.

In all sections of the country there are old gravel or waterbound macadam roads suitable to serve as bases for new highways. New surfaces can be laid over them, and at a great saving. It amounts to trading in old roads for new, exactly as we trade in old cars on new models.

The recently developed bituminous type surfaces offer communities the advantages of low upkeep and original cost, coupled with dependability and safety. Instead of forty thousand dollars a mile, they can be applied to old roads for a fraction of that figure—and, except where traffic is extremely heavy, as well as the most expensive highways. The full-width road, even in the country, in these days of high speeds and extensive use of buses and trucks, has become a necessity.

Communities can start with the lowest cost bituminous construction, and then, as traffic increases, develop their roads into long-lived, efficient highways, merely by adding more surface as they go along. Science has put good year-round roads within the reach of almost every locality.

WORDS ARE MADE TO BE USED
Words are made to be used. So are guns, and words are as dangerous or more so than guns. So is cooling, refreshing, mountain-cool water here to use and words are as stimulating, as refreshing as gratifying as the clear crystal water that God gave to Man.

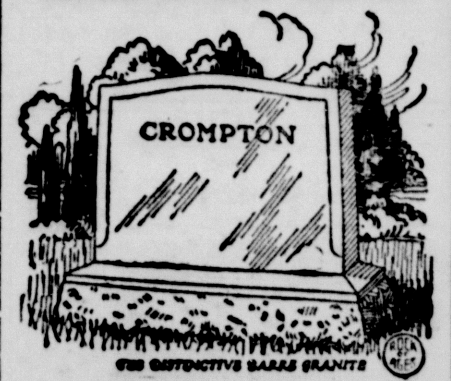

Just a few lines of words. How much they can mean. If you do something for somebody and he takes time to sit down and write you a few words of appreciation, how much you appreciate that. You are overjoyed and delighted. You are tied to that person because he has not failed to express his appreciation of your service.

So when somebody does something for you, don't forget to be appreciative and to let the other person know about it. You will not only make a friend which is an asset not to be computed in dollars and cents or by any other standard, but you will also make a brother human feel good. You will encourage him to greater effort and that alone is worth ten thousand times the time and effort put into a few little words of appreciation.—Daihart Texan.

TAKE A VACATION

There are not many people around Grapevine so hard hit financially that they cannot afford to take a vacation. By that we don't mean that everyone can afford a long costly trip that includes high-priced hotels and bathing beaches, expensive golf courses and all that. For happily there are many ways of spending a vacation that doesn't mean a wild expenditure of money.

If you do nothing more than go for a week's visit with friends and relatives in a neighboring town it will be worth far more than it costs. It may mean a slight temporary loss of finances as a result of not being on the job, but it will put you in shape to be physically fit for the job longer than you will be if you don't rest up. So in the long run it really proves a good investment.

Take the family away for a week, no matter if it's only out of sight of home. Give them a change of scenery; give them a chance to talk to people they don't talk to every day. Take along a fishing pole or two, for there's no more restful way on earth to spend a little time. Then when you get back home notice the difference in the way everybody in the family settles down to normal tasks. It makes a whole of a difference, one little week spent away from home. It also makes you appreciate your home more, once you have gotten back. Don't get the idea that you can't afford to take a vacation. The truth is, you can't afford not to take one.—Grapevine Sun.

mission buy land in the Palo Duro canyon for a park and a game preserve. At the same time it would strengthen the opportunity to open up a state park system in Texas, and it might directly cause a system of parks to be opened up within a few years.

A game preserve and park in the Palo Duro canyon would also provide a place to add other wild animals in the future. Elk, antelope, and other beasts could be added from time to time.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has written all members of the Game Commission urging that they consider the establishment of a combination park and game preserve in the Palo Duro canyon.

The members of the Game Commission are: H. E. Woods, Austin; Merl L. Buckner, Dallas; Gene Howe, Amarillo; Gus F. Schreiner, Kerrville; Caesar Kleberg, Kingsville; J. H. Bibb, Marshall; and W. J. Lucker, Austin.

"Save the Buffalo" was the theme of the program which the Canyon Chamber of Commerce sponsored over WDAG last Saturday night. Dr. J. A. Hill, C. W. Batchelder, and Fred Pool spoke over the radio in behalf of the buffalo.

The musical part of the program was composed of several cowboy tunes and songs which were dedicated to the buffalo. Bill Dawes sang two numbers, and Miss Margaret Justice gave a violin selection; both were accompanied by Miss Josephine Duflot. Joe Hill, Jr. gave several whistling numbers. He was accompanied by Miss Jessie Louder.

Burton Succeeds
Reeds as Football
Coach This Fall

"Sad Sam" Burton will tutor the Buffalo grid warriors this fall!

Announcement was made following the resignation of Claude Reeds who has definitely accepted the athletic directorship at Central Teachers College, Edmond, Oklahoma. At this time a letter signed by all prospective members of the 1931 squad was presented to Mr. Burton, athletic director at West Texas, asking him to take over the duties of football coach, pointing out that his acquaintance with the men and his very distinct knowledge of the game made this advantageous to all concerned. In cognizance of this fact and the financial saving effected in salaries, his decision was made.

Although Coach Burton has for the past seven years confined his direct activities to basketball alone, he is well qualified to take up football. In 1911 he starred at Oklahoma University, playing alongside Claude Reeds. While there Burton was once chosen All-Oklahoma guard and once All-Southwest guard. He coached the Buffalo turn-out for four years and many old grads will say his teams in 1923 and '24 were the best in the history of West Texas. During his four years he defeated the Simmons Cowboys twice, a feat unduplicated, since no other W. T. coach has managed it so much as once.

Relieving Coach Burton of much of his physical education responsibility will be Cleatice Crump, former Buffalo returning here after several years' experience as football and basketball coach in high school and college. He will probably assist the Big Coach.

Coaching School
Held at Lubbock

S. D. Burton, athletic director and newly appointed football mentor of West Texas Monday assumed his duties as basketball coach at the coaching school being held at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, from August 3 to 15. While there Coach Burton will be a member of a teaching coterie including Wallace Wade, Duke University; Jimmy Phelan, Washington University, and Jimmie Kitts of Athens High School fame.

Association with such luminaries is recognition of Burton's own genius. His reputation as a basketball coach and producer of T. I. A. A. champions procured him the invitation to join so distinguished a staff.

Women are Canning Wheat.

Miss Helen Cowan, demonstration agent of Childress county, has found another way to use a portion of the wheat crop. The farmers are advised to can the wheat for food purposes, to use as macaroni, rice and other breakfast foods.

The wheat is put to soak over night in a large amount of water, thus swelling to almost double its regular size. The next day the wheat is placed in cans and processed in a pressure cooker for 30 minutes at a pressure of 15 pounds. Or if time is plentiful process the wheat 40 minutes at a pressure of 10 pounds.

The canned wheat can be used in a number of ways and is said to be as appetizing as macaroni, rice or breakfast food. The cost is slight, as only a small amount of salt is added to the wheat when canned. A number of farm wives in Childress county are now canning wheat with other grains and vegetables.

A Missouri farmer who called his newly employed hired hand out of bed at four o'clock in the morning was surprised a few moments later to see the man walking off down the road.

"Say! Come back an' eat breakfast 'fore you go to work."

"I ain't goin' to work," the man called back. "I'm goin' to hunt somewhere to stay all night."

Self Feeders for Hogs.

College Station.—The modern way of feeding hogs by means of self-feeders is on the increase in Texas, and most county agents are including this labor saving device in plans worked out with farmers for feeding demonstrations, declares E. M. Regenbrecht, Swine Specialist in the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture. He points out that tests made at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station show this method gives the most economical gains where corn or grain sorghums are fed free choice with a protein supplement consisting of equal parts of cottonseed meal and tankage.

Experiments reveal that most grains can be economically fed underground if fed in a self-feeder, thereby saving a big expense. Hogs on a self-feeder eat slowly, chew their grain better and a very small amount of the grain passes through the hog undigested.

The economy of the self-feeder, in addition to saving the cost of grinding, comes from the great amount of labor saved, from securing a naturally balanced ration, and from preventing wastage of feed on the ground or on feeding floors, Mr. Regenbrecht says. Many demonstrators find that self-feeders need be replenished only once a week or even less often, making the job of feeding hogs very light. By using these feeders a pound of gain is made with 3½ to 4 pounds of feed.

The type of feeder recommended is 4 to 6 feet in length, 3 or 4 feet in height and 1 foot in width, with a feeding trough at the bottom 12 inches wide, covered with wooden flaps. The walls of the feed compartment are perpendicular, thereby allowing the feed to settle down more freely than was the case with the old "V" type of feeder.

Making Money on Eggs.

The poultry demonstrators of Bailey county are proving to themselves there is a profit in eggs at 10 cents a dozen.

During May the demonstrators produced eggs at six cents a dozen, and sold them at 11 cents, leaving a profit of 5c per dozen.

The cost of producing eggs in June was 4½ cents, and the price received was 10½ cents leaving a profit of six cents. The demonstrators produce infertile eggs and get from one to two cents a dozen above fertile eggs price.

The names of the demonstrators are given here: W. R. Young, Longview; W. M. Pool, Purity Seed farm; Mrs. W. M. Jiant, Circleback; D. W. Danielson, J. S. Williamson, J. R. Sheriff, B. Waller, all of West Camp; Lloyd Queensberry, Y. L.; Joe Paul, Lazbuddie.

These people are keeping an accurate record of their poultry operations.—Muleshoe Journal.

Culling for Better Wool Fleece.

Alamosa.—Three years of sheep culling on the Ed R. King ranch near here, under supervision of Max Grandy, county extension agent, and other representatives of the Agricultural college extension service, has increased average fleece weights over two pounds per ewe. Each fleece was weighed separately. Ewes shearing below eight and one-half pounds each were marked for culling, and those shearing over 12 pounds will be used in special breeding work. One hundred twenty-two ewes were marked specials with an average fleece weight of 13.1 pounds. Exceptional uniformity of fleeces in quality and staple has been obtained by culling. Rambouillet fleeces, including yearlings, averaged 10.2 pounds. Corriedales, 9.8 pounds, a special group of 85 Corriedale yearlings selected for breeding, 9.8 pounds, crossbreds, 10.1 pounds.

Club Boys Feeding 21 Calves.

County Agent C. B. Martin has selected six more baby calves to be fed out by club boys in Swisher County. These calves were taken from the herds of Roy McMurtry and Ab Bivins, and are to be fed by J. R. Mote, Gerald Mote, and Junior Sharp. This makes a total of twenty-one calves that are being fed by club boys in this county.

Mr. Taylor, the vocational agriculture teacher in the local high school, worked with Mr. Martin in selecting these calves. He came here July 15th to take up his work, and announces that he expects to stress livestock feeding in his program.

W. C. Cowan and Ab Bivins are personally financing the club boys who are feeding baby calves. They are to be complimented for making it possible for the boys to carry on such demonstrations.—Tulla Herald.
